imber of the Scientific American contains the coursed of late at the West, and almost every nail brings intelligence of some new disaster. we receive, the traveling public in that region seem to be panic stricken. Almost the first question passengers ask when ev come on board is, "Has the boat got tnular boilers?" says a correspondent, and have been boilers of that class. We shall show ereafter why it is natural.

When steam generators of this kind were ke to them among a certain class of engineers "powder magazines," as "kell kettles," and merous other slang names. It was soon more "dangerous" than others, if properly was not from any inherent defect in the system these in charge. It is not the boiler which is angerous, but the men in charge of lt.

As tubular boilers generate steam more rapof water, are liable to get over-heated very rapneeded to prevent them from being injured.

The bollers on the Mississippi river are no this part of the country, since, if we are propuly informed, the majority have tubes five pipe that determines the character of the boller. feet in diameter, so to all intents and purposes these boilers are tubular boilers, having large fi.e surface and small water spaces.

Where heat is rapidly conducted through water, as in iron tubes, the water is repelled trom the hot surfaces, and dirty water, such as that in Western rivers, more rapidly than clean. Moreover, from the method of setting coilers they are nnequally heated, so that one side may be intensely hot while the other is comparatively cool. The boilers in the center of a gang of five, being set in a row, must necessarily receive a great portion of the heat while those outside have not so much; the result would be to make steam faster in the middle than in the other boilers, and not only ause them to foam but to drive the water out om one into the other. This is not uneom sang of boilers that rapid firing, as with wood, will give three gauges of water in a oller that was scant and less in the other that

Dirty water, as we have before remarked, is my bad for any boiler, but particularly for these. Our engineer correspondent says: "I ave seen the spaces between the fluss entirely stopped up, so that they had to be drawn to ean them. Where mud accumulates to this extent, it is certainly not difficult to account for he explosions, or rather collapses, since most of the accidents are of this nature " The remedy is to use more care, and some neans to prevent mud from accumulating so fast as to stop up the spaces.

lar boilers because some passengers leave the boats fitted with them. As well might every the stop traveling on railroads, for all locome ee are tubular boilers of a much more "dan erous" type than those which have exploded. Tubular boilers make steam so much cheaper and more rapidly than common return-fine or linder boilers, that they should be used evewhere when they can be. In all places where sel is scarce we find them; in all cities, in railways, in steamers, in steam-fire engines, and factories-wherever, In short, steam is used as a motive power. It is too late in the day to decry them, and they will eventu-ally find their way into general use on the Mississippi river as they have in all other countries. In the steam fire engines are tubular boilers where the tubes are only three fourths of an inch in diameter, and he spaces between one-fourth of an inch, and the fire is so forced by the draft and exhaust that the blaze comes out of the top. One hundred and eighty, two hundred, and much higher working pressures are carried, and they are in a time; they don't explode unless neglected.

THE EFFICE OF THE VETO—A Washington correspondent says that three thousand persons changed their politics in that city the night after the Freedent's Veto Message was sent to the Senate. If the Veto effected so great a change as this, among the Republican politicals residing at the capital, we may well believe that the "Great Speech" of the President, on the following Thursday, caused at least twice as many more to "choose the better part" and rally to the standard of a restored lines.

on the following Thursday, caused at least twice as many more to "choose the better part" and rally to the standard of a rectored Umon and an "inrolled Constitution" which the President has now at last so boldly erected. Over the whole Union, and especially at the North, the effect of the Veto and Speech has been electric, magical, protound. Euch a commotion in political circles has not been witnessed in this country sluce the days of General Jackson's famons war on the Banks—since the day when the Old Hero's "Removal of the Deposites" came like a thurder-clap to blow up parties and astonish the nation.

Thus has Andrew Johnson won a new title to clery—a new title to the name of the "Second Jackson" And it is not to be donhted that the same results will follow the comp de mais of President Johnson that waited upon and assured the triumph of Old Hickory. Already, enough in seen to give assurance that the heretotore great Republican Party is hopelessly divided. Four or five of the brightest Intellects, two or three of the greatest leaders of that party, Saward, Thurlow Weed, Henry J. wille, on the Kingston R and, was the seene of httense excitement yesterday morning, occasioned by the suffocation of two human beings in a well and the narrow escape of a third. It appears that a Mr. Brockwell, residing in the locality, had a well on his land which had run dry during the winter by the stoppage of a spring in the bottom of the well, which gushed through rock. As, therefore, there were but two or three fect of water in the well which was forty-two feet deep, a man named Sears was hired to drill the rock and thus open the spring. Operations were commenced early vesterday morning, and Mr. Sears had been working with the drill for a considerable time, when, the men not hearing from him, Mr. Brockwell also went down, and, as he also did not show signs of moving, alter a lapse of time a third man was let down, but had only been lowered a few feet when he cried out, asking to be drawn np, as he was suffocating. By this time the whole inside of the well was a cloud of smoke, and the rushing of water could be distinctly heard, while a strong smell of gas prevailed around the month of the well. Persons who were about it were startled, and for a moment could hardly make out the fearful state of affairs. A candle was then sent for, to enable them to ace into the weil; but while they were striking a match within a few feet off the well, the gas took fire, and instantly the well was in fiames, which spirited ont eight or ten feet into the air. It continued to tun in this manner for about three hours, without any intermission. The well was then covered with planks and manure to try and extinguish the fiames, but with no effect. Finally a bag of sait was poured in, and the fiames ceased. On in spection it was found that the well was nearly filled with water, although a few hours before it was almost dry. Grappling irons were procured, and in a short time the well was had been bursting from the well, and the water boiled continnously all yesterday afternoon. An inquest was held on the bodies, and a verdict to t tense excitement yesterday morning, occa ned by the endocation of two human being

The Loyal Leaguers, not satisfied with one revelation from the other world on the subject of "The Apostate," mustered the spirits into the service for a second installment, or rather, delighted with their first interview, secured its repetition. The fair "mejnm" was one fully competent to speak about apoetacy, even without the intervention or inspiration of spirits, inasmnch as she was not long since a successful applicant for divorce in the Courts of New York. The loyal folks who attended the lecture say it was grandly severe on the President, and entirely demolished that Tylerized individual. I was not present on either occasion, but rather than mise hearing what the splitts had so say about the President's policy, I went to a mejum and opened a communication with the other world for my own private information. heaped upon them, and in the city of Louisville it would be a work of spiererrogation to refine the slanders intered against him, and I mention the book here simply to show the aulmis which actuated that portion of the press which was in the interest of the tebellion. But since the war closed the Southern press (or a portion of it) has had a two fold labor. First to prove that a brave man should enterial no enmity against an adversary that has battled with him on the hloodyfield. This argument is addressed to the peeple of the North, and we concur with them in the argument. Their second task is to keep alive in the hearts of the peeple of the South a feeling of undying hate toward every prominent Unionist. The publication in the Courier is one of many for this purpose. Just at the close of the war General Wade Hampton said that the Southern jeeple would appeal the rebellion from the battle-field to the political arena. When this was quoted by Northern journals as evidence to show that the South would not act in good faith in the Union, it was answered that Hampton must not be taken as authority for the people of the South. But Wade Hampton's word is sufficient, it seems, to brand with opprobrium the greatest captain of the Federal army, General sheuman has never fluched from the consequences of any responsibility he has once assumed. If Countis has been Angusta when it was expected that She would take that place lu his tour of the Scru States. We appeal to them to know i would take that route. Nay, further, it is no unement that it became maniest that Sherman would take that route. Nay, further, it is now believed in Angusta that it was a desire to prevent this destruction that deterred him from capturing that place. Yet, although it is patent that this was one of the modes of wafare in high lavor in the South, still they now attempt to cast the odium of every confagration upon the Federals, and a feeling of emilty is thus kept alive in the masses of the South toward the Government. Sherman, with a large justion of the Unionists, regarding the war as over, desire to see all the blessings of peace returned to the people of the South. They desire the Southern States to take their proper places in his great sisterhood, and to have and enjoy all the privileges bestowed by the Government upon the most favored of its elizens. But we are constantly met by just such articles as the one in the Courier referred to in this article, and I presume that socu some Federal General will be held responsible for the burning of Chembersburg and the murders committed in Kentucky by One-armed Berry. V cappeal to those who have carnestly desired and longht for the success of the rebellion to discountenance all efforts to keep alive the comities engendered by the war. Such efforts can do no good and will do great harm. Union men will not sit tamely by and hear slanders uttered against those upon whom they relied during the struggle, and the radicals eagerly scize npon all such exhibitions of hard feelling and nrge them as evidences that the Southern States soould be kept in a state of vassal.

g and pree them as evidences that the S rn States should be kept in a state of vassage. We doubt not that during the progress of the war much suffering was caused by wantor acts perpetrated by both armies, and wher either side attempts to dig upsuch remembran-ces it will always find that "there are blows to HABRAS CORPUS_THE NATURE AND EXTEN OF ITS SUSPENSION IN KENTUCKY .- We Prom sed several days ago to show to our readers the nature and extent of the existing suspension which factious partisans have made the cause of much irritation and complaint in the midst of us, using it as a means for exciting in the minds of thoughtless or uninformed men a of President Johnson. As has been frequently declared by us since the return of peace, we desire the President to make a formal and complete restoration of the writ in this State, mind in reference to a matter so suscep-tible of misconstruction, notwithstanding the fact that no practical evil is suffered by our people in conseque very limited suspension of the writ which was authorized by the Presidential proclamation of July 5, 1864. We have carefully examined the its operation throughout the State, and we find that it does not, in any degree whatever, affect the writ of habeas corpus respecting any case wherein a State court possesses jurisdiction; it affects exclusively a limited and peculiar class of cases in which the Federal courts alone have risdiction. The entire complaint on this subject in Kentucky has doubtless arisen from an tter misapprehension of the real bearing of the proclamation upon our State tribunals. while the fact is, as we now affirm, that the writ, so far as our State courts have jurisdiction, has never been interrupted, nor suspended by that proclamation. Our State courts, in other words, have constantly possessed and exercited the power of issuing the writ, since the proclamation as before it, in all cases where, hy law, they are entitled to jurisdiction.

ment, and we shall see that the cases in which the writ was suspended are of a class that is wholly beyond the jurisdiction of a State cour and exclusively within the jurisdiction of a Fed-ended 'in the cases where, by the author; ty of the President of the United States, military, naval, and civil officers of the United States, or any of them, held persons under their comwar, spice, or aiders or abettors of the enemy or officers, soldiers, or seamen, enrolled or drafted, or mustered or enlisted in, or below ing to the land or naval forces of the United States; or as deserters therefrom, or otherwise amenable to military law or the rules and artiscribed for the military or naval services, b authority of the President of the United States; or for resisting the draft, or for any other of fence against the military or naval service."

Now, will any lawyer or other intellige person pretend, that, in any of the foregoing cified cases, the writ of habeas corpus or any légal action would lie in any State court? Certainly not. No State court could entertain the writ against a military, naval, or civil officer of the United States in favor of a prisoner of war, nor a spy, nor an alder or abettor of the common enemies of the General Government. If, for instance, a petition for the writ of babeas corpus should be filed with the Judge of a State court, alleging that the pelitione was held by a military or naval or civil officer of the United States, acting under a law of Congress or under instructions from the Presi dent, would such a Judge be entitled to issue the writ? Most assuredly not. He would simply announce that he had no jurisdiction over such officers, and that the petitioner should apply to a Federal court having the proper no more power to issue the writ against such Federal officers (amenable as they would be to the Federal authorities alone, for their official acts) than he would have to issue the writ to a sheriff, or other officer, in Indiana Ohio, or any other State.

It should be remembered that in each Stat there are two jurisdictions, as separate and inof the respective States themselves-viz: the Federal and the State jurisdiction; and neither can lawfully invade the other.

Were the Federal officers, acting under a law to the State authorities, and required to answer to them for their cflicial acts, nullification of Federal authority and jurisdiction within a this is involved the gist of the old Nullification Controversy which Massachusetts and South Carolina inaugurated. Acting upon the nullification theory, two rebel-sympathizing Justices, or a County Judge, or a Circuit Judge, at Louis ville, for instance, or along the Louisville and Nashville Railroad, during the late war, might have halted the trains of prisoners and turned them loose as rapidly as Gens. Sherman and Thomas could catch them; or upon the same principle such Judge might release a man whom the United States Marshal had arrest-ed under an indictment for treason. In like manner, also, a County or Cir-cult Judge might set at liberty deserters. gnerrillas, or other persons, charged with viols tions of the rules and articles of war. When however, only the rightful jurisdiction is asserted, these things cannot happen. The State tribunals will not and cannot assume to control the official acts of officers of the United States dent, in accordance with the rules and regulations which govern the army and navy. Thus, it is very clear that under the Presider tial proclamation of July 5th, 1864, there has not been, nor can there be, the slightest inter ference with the jurisdiction of our State aupension of the writ of habeas corpus. Our State tribunals have been wholly untouched by it, and have, therefore, uninterruptedly had the right to exercise the power of granting the writ in all cases wherein they have ordinarily possessed jurisdiction. And we have heard, thus far, of no case in which the upon the ground of the suspension authorized by the President's proclamation. The truth is that all the cases in which that proclamation assumes to suspend the writ are of such a nature that no State court could take jurisdiction of them, and in which no Federal court would grant the writ. As every lawyer must concede. is would be utterly abourd in a Federal court to grant the writ of habeas corpus to a prisoner of war, or to a spy, or to a deserter, or other violator of the rules and articles of war, while the offender should be held by a military, naval taken, and it is the one which he will undoubtor civil officer of the United States, for such offense. And yet, here is the ground, and the not because they always agreed with him, not only ground, for all the irritation and complaint which factious partisans have aroused in this

But the view we have taken of this subject (and it is certainly the correct one) not only shows the absurdity of an easily excited popular passion, but demonstrates, also, the utter em at present of the supposed suspengion of the writ of habeas corpus. The proc-lamation of the President has been held up as a bugbear to our people, although it has prived mone of them of any right to which they are justly, entitled. In other words, the continued suspension aggrieves the feelings of leges of any; and we hope, therefore, for the aske of future good feeling and harmony in the midst of us, that President Johnson will emove the existing cause of complaint by rescinding President Lincoln's proclamation of

In a late number it remarks: "The New York Observer says that no man should have a seat in Congress who is not heart and soul loyal to the Government, and, if men of other views than these demand admission, the Senate or House will be justified in rejecting them." And then the Index adds: "So say we, and ench are its sentiments of the propose of the brated engagement had been different from what they were, if the Pederal forces had merched straight to Richmond, slavery would to-day have been where it was then, and more irmly seated than it ever had been before. Whigs, or Republicans. Such men cannot afford in the present crisis to worship mere names. Democrat has become, for example, an exceedingly latitudinous term. It may mean

Union or it may be secession, or something nondescript or half and half, or nothing is articular. Constitutional Union men must might be the consequences. The essence patriotic declaration of sentiment we have me with in a Southern newspaper since the war (f the people of the South agree with ns of the North in that test of admission to Congress the controversy on that subject is ended. Under the Constitution as it is now settled by the ceuit of the war, the meaning of the words ovally and allegiance is no longer doubtful, and no need be entertained of the future if anne but true and faithful men are sent to the ional Legislature. We know of no gennine supporter of Pres ent Johnson's policy who wishes any man admitted to a seat in either branch of Congres who is not "heart and soul loyal to the Govern ment." Mr. Johnson wants no man who is no thus loyal admitted. If any man has been lected to Congress from the South who is not loyal, he should be indignantly rejected. In his opinion every real and honest supporter of the President, East, West, North, and South will fully and heartily acquiesce. But what is oyalty to the Government? It is loyalty to he Constitution, for the Constitution is the overnment. There is no United States Gove:n ment without it or separate from or independent

f it. The Constitution overthrown, the Gov. rement, our present Government, ceases, inse eto, to exist. Loyalty to the Constitution can only be indicated by a readiness to take, cheerally and voluntarily, the oath to support it If a man perjures himself in taking that oath this can only be shown subsequently by acts. No man has a right to assume that another is about to perjure himself in taking an oath in procition to the solemn protestations of the wearer that he is acting in good faith. Perjury can only be established by subsequent positive proof. It cannot be inferred, nor can isloyalty be inferred. If persons profess loyal y and are willing to show it by taking the oath to support the Constitution, it is within no man's province, in the absence of proof to the contrary, to usnrp the prerogative of the Ai nighty and declare them disloyal. Such an ssumption is monstrous and shecking.

Has any man been elected to Congress from by Southern State, who, by this constitutions test, is not now loval to the Government of this untry? The Disunionists in Congress have not even attempted to make out any such case. There is no man elect from the South, so far as we know or believe, who is not willing and anxions to be put to the ordeal, who is not willing and anxions to have the opportunity to raise his right hand toward the Most High and swear or affirm upon the Holy Evangelists to apport the Constitution of the United State nd the laws made in pursuance thereof. By what authority is the test refused to any and every member elect to either House of Congress and semething worse than absurd for true If we look into the acts of some of the mem ers of Congress that have sworn to suppor the Constitution, and who are now arrogating with its priceless underlying principles and themselves the power, contrary to its provisons, to exclude eleven States of the Union from lacies and shut out from their vision facts that epresentation, we shall find that they have, be peir overt acts, proved themselves disloyal to don't want to see. That, we say, is supremely the Great Charter of our freedom, and have attempted to nullify and overthrow at least one of its plainest sections.

Article 3, section 3, of the Constitution is it these words: "Congress shall have power to declare the punishment of treason, but no attainder of treason shall work corruption of lood or forfeiture except during the life of the person attainted." That provision, in common with every other provision of the organic law every member of Congress took a solemn oath to obey and support before entering upon the discharge of his duties. How have some of the members kept that solemn oath?

It is known to every intelligent man in the ountry that Mr. Thaddeus Stevens, the admit we call them Disunionists. We call them so ted leader and representative of the Disunion posed and advocated a scheme of permaner onfiscation of the real property of the Southern people. He has formally and reriously pro They will not admit the Southern delegates to posed to pay the National Debt of the United States with the proceeds of such confiscated sion of the present Congress. The same men who are in it now will remain in It for two tend his plan to be a temporary makeshift years. He can maintain the state of things of the Constitution as that instrument contains now existing, if his life should be spared, but

and after they have taken an oath to support i? Let the people judge between them. It is known that we urged the people of the south to elect such men, and such only to the popular branch of Congress as could take what popularly called the test oath. We did so in he interests of reconciliation. We knew that uch a conrec on the part of the people of the South would immensely strengthen the President's policy of restoration, and that it would correspondingly weaken the influence of the Radical leaders over the popular mind of the North, and powerfully tend to bring about a full and final settlement of all our national dificulties. Vie stand by every line, word, and best policy for the South, and if her neonie had done so, in all probability their representative would before now have been admitted to their seats. But their failure to take the course we suggested is no excuse for or palliation of the onduct of the Disunion majority in Congress in their base and treasonable attempt to sub vert the Constitution and dissolve this great Union which our fathers made: to do this cov ertly and insidiously or openly and boldly upon pretexts and assumptions that would disgrace mantle his brazen face with shame LET THE PROPLE SPRAK.-Never was there a more anspicious period than now for united and decisive action by the people of Kentucky, in reference to vital political issues. Questions involving the future peace and welfare of the republic, no less than our own particular State, are now before the country, and they require every good citizen to take an nnequivocal post

President Johnson has announced fully and distinctly the principles and policy upon which he would restore the Federal Union, and he has appealed to the masses, irrespective of party, to sustain him. Can the yeomanry of Kentneky hesitate in choosing between him and his enemies, who are seaking by every unscrupnions means in their power to obstruct the noble work of pacification which he has inaugurated between the lately beiligerent sections of the Union? We are sure that they will not. Let therefore, all true Union men in the State, laying aside former differences among themselves upon questions now obsolete for ever, ascemble together, regardless of party names, and demonstrate their determination to stand by Andrew Johnson in the statesmanlike position which he has assumed before the na-tion. Let them firmly uphold his hands while he struggles with the radical elements now waging war upon him. Let them assemble in a grand mass-meeting and thence send up to Washington their mighty voice in approbation of his restoration policy. There is no party now in Kentucky, except the Johnson party, but there are poor little fac tions, seeking their own advantage, and looking out for good places to jump off the Union train or to jump on. We tell them again that the train won't stop. It has no "way stations." We all know what the late Dr. Bachanan "mass meeting" was, What does Dr. Buchman think of it about this time?

Policies issued without delay by WM, PRATHER & CO., Agents, No. 141 Main street.

In response to numerous requests from men of all parties, in various portions of the State, we announce that a grand mass meeting of the cy will assemble in this city on WEDNESDAY. THE SEVENTH OF NEXT MAY. All the end delegates to the meeting, irrespective of old party issues or party names, that the people of Kentucky may clearly express their determination to sustain the President against the radical elements of the country.

KENTURKY SOLDIERS' GRAND RE UNION.

On the 6th and 7th of April, 1866 there wil be a Grand Convention of the Federal Soldiers of Kentucky in this city. The noble and ga ant men, to whom our State is so largely inebted for the preservation of its peace, honor, ind safety, are cordially invited to be present from every county.

By order of the Committee of Arrangement We publish on the first page this morn a very interesting letter from our correadent, "Conservative Unionist."

ENTECRY SOLDERS' CONVENTION-Ever bearing upon the assemblage of Kencky soldiers in April next is progressing in the truest epirit of liberality and patriotism. The scarred and unscathed veterans of the Connonwealth may be sure that the part of Louiswile in their proposed reunion will be played well and nobly. Our citizens will not be satisfied unless they are foremost in doing honor and providing good cheer for the soldier of our beloved State. But we have worthy competitors in every direction. There is a monthe whole people a vieing one with another to promote the interests of the brave men who fought our battles and preserved our starry emblem from blot or stain. We, as journalist mericane, as Kentuckians, ask no prouder pionship than that of the honest yeomen of the land who breasted the storm of relentless war that we might continue to enjoy the bless ings of liberty and free, enlightened government. As we have ever befriended the soldie of the Union and his interests, so shall we continue, and glory in the privilege. In behalf of the unselfish patriots of Louisville, we extend of the State, and be sure of the kindliest greeting and immeasurable sympathy. We have received the subjoined gratifying letler from Gen. J. T. Boyle. The information it contains reflects most honorably upon the rall road and steamboat lines mentioned, and upon the General himself, whose heart beats responsive to the welfare of the Kentucky Union soldier, whatever his bias or wherever his home. The letter is as follows:

Hibbard vs. the Chancel-, action for lose of the former by collision and sinking, will be called up for trial in the Court of Common Pleas at 9% o'clock this morning. This case is one of several years standing, the steamer Hibbard having been smak in a collision with the steamer Chancellor below New Albany, in the year 1858. Suit is brought by W. C. Harry, owner of the S. P. Hibbard, against G. Steward, owner of the for recovery of the value of the lost steam. boat. It is a case of no little interest, and its decision is looked for with much anxiety the court yesterday was that of Tucker & Co. vs. McDonald, for the recovery of three thousand dollars in gold. Physiology of Man, designed to represent the existing state of Physiological Science as applied to the functions of the Human Body, by Austin Flint, M. D., Is a very ably written medical work, treating of the blood, circulation, and respiration. It will prove quite an addition to any library. The anthor is well known and distinguished for his abilities as a writer. He is Procasor of Physiology and Microscopy in the Bellevne Hospital Medical College, New York HENRY THE FIFTH, by Fowle,

Is a very valuable work, as it is th only reliable history of Henry the Fifth extant. It endeavors to give a truthful narrative of his private as well as his public character, as far as can be derived from the old chronclers, such as Hume. Froissart, manuscript A New AND VALUABLE INVENTION—John Habermehl, of Wheeling, West Virginia, has brought to our city a new tire-grate, of which he is the patentee, and which can now be seen in the British Museum, etc. The popular idea of Henry the Fifth is taken from Shakespeare, whose "Prince Hai" is not the Historical Henry, of Monmouth, but is almost as ideal a chara er as Hamlet himself. It was during his reign that many most momentous events occurred. Western Europe was passing from fendalism to the adoption of monarchical systems. The reformation of Joh Wickliffe was at this time preparing the war for religious revolutions in the future. THE NEW POLICE OBDINANCE.—This late en actment of the General Council has received the approval of the Mayor, and will be officially ublished in a day or two. The chief provisons of the ordinance are the constitution of a Board of Police Commissioners, consisting of he Mayor, President of the Board of Aldermen, President of the Board of Common Council, and Charlman of the Police Committees of the espective Boards, upon whom will devolve the omination of police officers, to be confirmed in General Council. The Commissioners will have exclusive jurisdiction over the members of the police force after the ratification of their prolntment by the General Council. By virne of his office, and the authority in this matter heretofore delegated to him, the Mayor retains he right of suspending or discharging delinquent policemen. Although some of our citizens are disposed to trust this newly elected Board as a "centralized (and therefore nnjust) power," we unheeltatingly believe it will refound to the very best interests of the city and to the advantage of the police officers them elves. It is a wise innovation—one loudly called for, and we anticipate from ts working no other than the most beneficial results. In view of the new order of things, andidates for police orders are numerous and nultiplying every day. The Commissioners that soon will be are beset on every hand by pruce-looking gentlemen, uniformed and with padges dazzling upon their breasts, and other entlemen tidily clad, in the less pretention garb of citizens. Electioneering is fully enters that of our city's guardlanship. The spirit of improvement in our city never appeared more general or earnest than at the present time. Throughout the whole extent of Main street the most gratifying evidences of prosperity are to be seen. When the new buildings now in course of crection and hose undergoing refitting and repairing shall have been completed. Main street, of which we have always been proud, will rank among the wealthiest and most attractive thoroughares in the country. Improvements are not limited to any one street or portion of the city. Our enterprising citizens and husiness men from the river to the southern commons and om the First Ward to the Eleventh, east and west, are engaged in improving and beautifying their property and the city. Fenian Demonstration in Nashville

Arrest of New York Letter Thieves. [Special Dispatch to the Louisville Journal.] INDIANAPOLIS, March 19. The Fenian demonstration to-night was asgnificent affair.

The occasion was the reception of Sweeney. berts, and Morrison, but the former was engaged at another point. Near four thousand people, mostly Irishmer were assembled. The house, the largest hall in the city, was so filled that hundreds were compelled to leave who could not gain admit-tance. Col. Robert R. Stewart, State Center of the Roberts party, presided. James B. Rvan, Democratic candidate for State Treasurer, introduced President Roberts, who was enthusiastically received. He spoke about an hour, and made a fine impression. His remarks were decidedly demonstrative. H said if the means were furnished, men and money and munitions of war, that in a short time, ere the summer's sun, the adjacent British territory wenld be occupied, when the war of words would cease and an armed struggle com nence which he promised should not cease till Ireland's independence was achieved. Mr. Fitzgerald spoke in the same strain, and called upon the Irishmen and women of Indidemption of their native land by contributing liberally lu means or money to enable men who were ready to march upon their enemies. Mr. Roberts said this Government would be very blind in regard to their operations, and would imitate England's neutrality in the late Senator Daily, of this State, made a few elonent remarks, and he was followed by Mr. Morrison, of Missouri, in a lengthy and abie speech, in which he spoke of the disinterested acrifice of Roberts and his co-workers, and rging his countrymen to contribute to aid the only feasible plan of freeing Ireland-the occu ation of British territory on this continent. Mr. Nelson, from the Military Committee Mr. Nelson, from the Military Committee, reported a bill to establish a home for totally disabled soldiers and sallors of the United States, with a recommendation that certain amendments of the House concurred in with regard to seamen, and make them applicable to seldlersonly. The House amendments were concurred in, and the bill now goes to the President for his signature.

Mr. Fessenden rose to a personal explanation. He found in the National Intelligence of the 17th inst, a letter from William A. Graham, a claimant for a seat in the Senate from North Carolina, in reply to his (Fessenden's) marks of a few days ago, concerning the nature of the investigation carried on by the Committee of Fitteen. This letter of Mr. Graham was Intended to convey the impression that the Investigations were not impartial. Mr. Gra-

The error of Mr. Graham was his belief that the testimony had closed because it had been ordered to be printed. It had not closed, except in the case of Tennessec. In the case of Noath Carolina no testimony had yet been printed, It all being in the hards of Mr. Howard, of Michigan, now absent on account of domestic affliction. Mr. Davis, in reply to Mr. Fessenden advocated the right of the claimants for seats, as Southern Senators and Representatives to be present and cross examine witnesses.

Mr. Davis proceeded to read Mr. Graham's etatement in the Intelligencer. Having read for balf an hour, he was called to order by Mr. Chandler, who insisted there was no question before the Senate.

SYNOPSIS OF LOUISVILLE JOURNAL TUESDAY, MARCH 20, 1866.

TELECRAPHIC NEWS. KENTUCKY LEGISLATURE. APTERNOON DISPATCHES. The Latest News from Jamaica.

Trial of Provest Marshal Ramsey, Important Letter from Mr. Saward His Views in Regard to Mexico. Account of the Texas Convention. Report of Wynkoop's Expedition. Particulers of bis Indian Treaty.

President Johnson & Bayor Kennedy To the Associated Press, NEW YORK, March 19. The Tribune's Paris correspondent writes of an important fact, not yet publicly known, in au important fact, not yet publicly known, in Paris.

Mr. Seward's answer to M. Drouyn de l'Huys's dispatch of January 9th has arrived. Although the French Government has not yet pronounced an official opinion upon it, the Cabinet of the Tuileries is very much pleased with its contents. While reiterating and reaffirming all the United States had ever said upon the Mexican question, he has happly commanded language to describe the position from which America will not budge an inch, in terms which France will probably make up its mind to consider as not incompatible with its own views for the moment. The undoubted impression on the French minority is, that Mr. Seward's latest communication relieves them from a load of anxiety, and that the relation of France and the United States in regard to Mexico now stands upon a very good footing. Mexico now stands upon a very good tooting.

The Herald's special says President Johnson sterday received a dispatch from A. J. Hamilion, Provisional Governor of Texas, giving a more hepcful account of the doings of the State Convention than any that have found their way into print. Gov. Hamilton sums up by saying sithough the convention had been in session one month without apparently accomplishing anything material, measures similar to those adopted by Alabama were likely to prevail; that there will be no trouble whatever concerning a repudiation of the rebet wer debt, and that freedumen will be treated more satisfactorily than by most of the other States. The principal difference of opinion was whether the ordinance of secession should be merely repealed or declared absolutely null from the besidning. visional Governor of Texas, giving a pealed or declared absolutely null from the beslinding.

The report of E. W. Wynkoop, Major United States Army, and special Indian agent, dated at Fort Larned, Kansas, March 5, 1860, and inclosing the treaty with the Arapiahoes and Cheyenne Indiane, hae been received at the Indian Bureau. The treaty is dated on Bluff Creek, Little Arkansas river, Kansas, March 1st, 1866, and bears the signatures of twelve chiefs. Among the number is the famous Geo. Bent-hoe-mah-ha-keet-ket. This chief has long been a terror to the frentier, and the fact of his signing the treaty is an assurance of the future peace and safety of the outer set tlements. Major Wynkoop complains of the system of free trade as carried on by irresponsible parlies, and attributes all difficulties to the introduction of contraband articles and of the ble pariles, and attributes all difficulties to the tributeion of contraband articles and of the introduction or contraband articles and of the diministon of unprincipled men.

The expedition brought in a young white girl flicen years of age, named Amenda Pietcher, captured in August last, near Fort Halleck.

The publication in several papers that ten prointments at large for cadetship had been hade by the President or Secretary of War was remature. The question is still open, and the selection is undecided. About 500 applications have been made for the ten appointments.

NEW YORK, March 19. New YORK, March 19.

The Tribune's special says a large number of the citizens of the Northern Territories met in Washington on Saturday, for the purpose of expressing their views as to the practicability of the proposed Northern route of the Pacific Railroad. A committee of five was appointed to prepare an address, urging Congress to grant the aid asked for, after which the meeting was addressed by several gentlemen present. The shipment of fractional currency last week the Treasury Department amounted to 138,000, of which $100,000 was forwarded to he Sub-Treasury in New York. Later news regarding the Platte war does not ecord any new movements of importance. The grand attempt at an advance by the allies and not taken place, and the hostile armies still had not taken place, and the hostile armies still confronted each other ou opposite sides of the Parama. A small force of about six hundred Paraguayans had made a dach across that river with a loss of eight or ten men on each side, but the exploit does not appear to have resulted in any advantage to either. Additional Brazilian guuboats and iron class were on their way to the seat of war, and several vessels had arrived with munitions and supplies for the allied troo; s, and reinforcements to the number of about four thousand men had joined the allies.

The trial of Ramsey, Provost Marshal of Mo-for strocities committed in the disharte of the duties of his post, was proceeding by the civil magistrates, but proceedings were conducted in private. The accused had been admitted to ball in the Aselze Court.

Thirty-seven of the prisoners charged with participation in the rebellion were ou trial. All say, for atrocities committed in the dis-s of the duties of his post, was proceeding

New Your, March 19.

The Herald's Washington special gives the following facts regarding the reported President's Interference in the municipal election of New Orleans. Mr. Kennedy, the present Mayor, telegraphed to the President ou the 16th instant, expressing doubts as to the fitness of his successor elect, Mr. Monroe, inquiring whether or not be should yield to the succession. The President realised as Jollows by telegran. n. The President replied as follows, by tele

and also telegraphed to the President yesterday that he had been regularly elected Mayor of New Orleans, and that he is as loyal to the Union, and as enthusiastically in favor of the reconstruction policy of the President, as any man living, and can qualify according to law.
The President replied to this by repeating the telegram sent to Mr. Keunedy, thus leaving the matter where it belonge—to the people of New Orleans and the civil and military laws that govern such cases.

Hallfax, March 19.

HALIFAX, March 19. There is great excitement here. Starting rumors are affoat. The royal and provincial artillery is manning all the forts. A procismation has been issued calling out the militia. Arms and ammunition are to be distributed to them to day. The engineers have been very busy chang brider, day and night. ce Friday, day and night. St. Patrick's dev was celebrated with the PITTSBURG, March 19. River 8 feet 3 Inches and falling. Mercury 5 degrees. Suow fell all last night and this norning. CINCINNATI, March 19.

The river is rising, with 32 feet 11 inches wa-er in the channel. Thermometer 52 degrees. The Washington correspondent of the incinnati Gazette warns soldiers and others agaiust claim agents aud their references, as follows:

The mere fact that oue of these firms give a list of prominent public men is no evidence of a soundness. No soldier should employ oue of them without first writing to some of the gentlemen given as vonchers. A case in point was referred to a tew days since in the Gazette dispatches, and it may be well to reproduce it in this connection. One of these men applied a few llows: this connection. One of these men applied a few weeks sluce to Speaker Coffax for permission to use his usume in circulars to soldiers. This the Speaker positively refused and yet the man issued a large lot of circulars, promis-ng for certain consideration. This the Sicaker positively refused and yet the man issued a large lot of circulars, promising for certain considerations to obtain eighty acres of land for each soldier. These he sent all over Mr. Colfax's district, and through it has doubtless succeeded in swindling many who detened the Speaker's name sufficient guaranty—as it would be if used by his permission. A large number of Western soldiers took the precaution to write to Mr. Colfax and ascertain whether he had really indersed the man, and were thus saved from imposition; but many others have coubtless been robbed. The Speaker, whose sympathies are strong for the soldier, took immediate steps to counteract the influence of the circulars which had already gone out. The probabilities are that the names of many promnent men are without their knowledge thus used by ecoundrels here, and the only sure way to guard against fraud where a soldier is dealing with a stranger is to write and ascertain whether the names used by the agent are used by permission. Too gicat care cannot be exercised in this matter.
